

MONTHLY UPDATE

Given the Fund's recent completion of its capital raising period, this month's unit price is the first month for which the Fund's unit price is based upon the Fund's Net Asset Value. As per the PDS, units were issued to investors during the capital raising period at the AUD equivalent of one US Dollar, based on the FX rate of the day their application was accepted.

Positively affecting the unit price was the net 7.18% fall in the value of the Australian dollar since 1 June 2018, from US$0.7561 to US$0.7018. The Fund does not hedge currency exposure. Negatively affecting the unit price is the recognition of the Fund's formation expenses for the first time in striking this month's unit price.

The Unit Price reflects the Q1 Underlying Fund Net Asset Values as at 31 March 2019.

The annual distribution is due to be finalised by the end of July.

Q1 INVESTOR LETTER FROM BRIDGE INVESTMENT GROUP – BRIDGE MULTIFAMILY IV

Note: All dollar amounts and performance returns quoted are US Dollar denominated.

Thank you for your support of Bridge Multifamily IV Funds (the “Fund” or the “Partnerships”). We are pleased to share with you the Quarterly Report for the period ending March 31, 2019.

VIEWS ON THE MULTIFAMILY MARKETS

As we exit the first quarter of 2019, Bridge’s multifamily strategy remains well-positioned for success. A growing U.S. economy, strong household formation rates, and steady job growth continue to bolster the investment landscape and defy media expectation. Furthermore, Bridge’s refinement of data-driven investment analytics has amplified our ability to select high performing markets. These factors have allowed Bridge’s assets to maintain strong fundamentals amid an evolving financing environment this quarter.

A growing U.S. economy, strong household formation rates, and job creation continue to bolster the investment landscape. Furthermore, Bridge’s ongoing refinement of data-driven investment analytics continues to improve our ability to select high performing markets and screen out the “noise.” These factors have allowed Bridge to continue to find well-located high-quality opportunities.

Real gross domestic product is estimated to grow by an annualized rate of 3.2% as of the first quarter of this year.ⁱ Notably, this forecast is a revision up from previous projections and tracks similarly to the outsized growth seen in the third quarter of 2018. The quarter’s annualized growth remains above the current expansion’s average of 2.18%.ⁱⁱ Employment has also sustained significant growth with an average of 180,000 jobs created per month in 2019.ⁱⁱⁱ As of today, the economic expansion remains the second-longest running expansion in U.S. history, and at 118+ months is poised to break the 120-month record set from 1991 to 2001. That said, the current expansion has been the slowest-growing recovery of the 11 since WWII.^{iv} Although GDP has grown 24.5% since the last trough, we have yet to reach the average trough-to-peak gain of 25.13%, and we are well below the 42.5% gain achieved in the 1991-2001 expansion.^v This slow and steady growth suggests the expansion will continue for the foreseeable future.

The Federal Reserve has not broken message since moderating its position on interest rates earlier in the year. In conjunction with holding the Fed Funds rate steady in March 2019, the FOMC lowered expected 2019 hikes from two to zero. The change has been largely met with investor optimism, as reflected in the public equity markets, and the reprieve from interest rate hikes provides flexibility to Bridge’s financing activities. Notwithstanding eight interest rate moves since between late 2016 and 2018, U.S. cap rates remain flat to down in Commercial Real Estate Markets.^{vi}

The strength in the U.S. economy bodes well for apartment demand, and our business strategy continues to see significant tailwinds. As of the first quarter, multifamily supply over the past four quarters was approximately 301,000 units. Although this represents a marginal decrease of about 2% quarter-over-quarter, there are roughly 420,500 units in the construction pipeline as of Q1 2019.^{vii} While this is the highest pace of pipeline activity seen in nearly a decade, there is an observable deceleration in multifamily permits as Q1 2019 saw a 43.74% decrease with 56,731 multifamily permits recorded.^{viii} While new overall supply has been consistent over the past several years across the country, we continue to see an overabundance of newer Class A stock relative to its Class B counterpart.^{ix} The disproportionate amount of Class A units in pipeline creates some concern in the short-run for Class A supply/demand balance, but nationally overall unit deliveries continue to be below Bridge’s internal demand projection of 328,000 units on an annual basis. Net of obsolescence, which could range from 0.5% to 1.0% of existing stock annually, our net demand expectations range from 425,000 to 500,000 units per year.^x This also speaks to the favorability of Bridge’s high touch, value-add approach, which privileges Class B acquisitions with better fundamentals. As of the first quarter of 2019, Class B apartment occupancy was 317 basis points higher than that of Class A properties including recent market deliveries in lease up,^{xi} and the effective rent gap per unit between Class A and Class B apartments in dollars has grown by over 18% since 2013 and currently stands at $489.^{xii}

Multifamily transaction volume remained positive with the quarter-end closing 1% higher than Q1 of 2018. Total nominal transaction volume totals $36.4B this quarter with $175.2B in activity over the past four quarters. The marginal increase was driven primarily by large portfolio sales, which buoyed this quarter despite a decrease in single-asset activity. The RCA Multifamily Commercial Property Price Index (CPPI) posted an 7.3% year-over-year gain, with cap rates compressing to 5.4% (down 20 basis points since this time last year).^{xiii}

INVESTMENT ACTIVITY UPDATE

This investment is 100% owned by the Fund and targeting an average four-year cash-on-cash return of 6.2% and an asset-level 15.4% IRR.
- Jurupa Valley Crossroads, acquired on March 27, 2019, is a development deal in Jurupa Valley, California, with a purchase price of $20,000,000 and equity investment of $34,189,571. This investment is 100% owned by the Fund and targeting an asset-level 20.8% IRR.
- Verona Park, acquired on March 28, 2019, is a 304-unit apartment community in Mesa, Arizona, with a purchase price of $43,750,000 and equity investment of $19,419,924. This investment is 100% owned by the Fund and targeting an average four-year cash-on-cash return of 6.0% and an asset-level 15.0% IRR.

The Partnerships also have one investment under contract:

- Lake Tivolio, a 304-unit apartment community in Kissimmee, Florida, is targeted to close on May 15, 2019, with a purchase price of $70,250,000 and equity investment of $26,639,516. This investment is 100% owned by the fund and targets an average four-year cash-on-cash return of 6.2% and an asset-level 15.4% IRR.

Q1 INVESTOR LETTER FROM BRIDGE INVESTMENT GROUP – BRIDGE OFFICE I

Note: All dollar amounts and performance returns quoted are US Dollar denominated.

Thank you for your continued support of Bridge Office I Funds ("Bridge Office" or the "Partnerships"). We are pleased to share with you the quarterly report for the period ending March 31, 2019.

VIEWES ON THE COMMERCIAL OFFICE MARKETS

As we exit the first quarter of 2019, Bridge's office strategy remains well-positioned for success. A growing U.S. economy, strong household formation rates, and job creation continue to bolster the investment landscape. Furthermore, Bridge's ongoing refinement of data-driven investment analytics continues to improve our ability to select high performing markets and screen out the "noise." These factors have allowed Bridge to continue to find well-located high-quality opportunities.

Real gross domestic product is estimated to grow by an annualized rate of 3.2% as of the first quarter of this year.ⁱ Notably, this forecast is a revision up from previous projections and tracks similarly to the outsized growth seen in the third quarter of 2018. The quarter's annualized growth remains above the current expansion's average of 2.18%.ⁱⁱ Employment has also sustained significant growth with an average of 180,000 jobs created per month in 2019.ⁱⁱⁱ As of today, the economic expansion remains the second-longest running expansion in U.S. history, and at 118+ months is poised to break the 120-month record set from 1991 to 2001. That said, the current expansion has been the slowest-growing recovery of the 11 since WWII.^{iv} Although GDP has grown 24.5% since the last trough, we have yet to reach the average trough-to-peak gain of 25.13%, and we are well below the 42.5% gain achieved in the 1991-2001 expansion.^v This slow and steady growth suggests the expansion will continue for the foreseeable future.

The Federal Reserve has not broken message since moderating its position on interest rates earlier in the year. In conjunction with holding the Fed Funds rate steady in March 2019, the FOMC lowered expected 2019 hikes from two to zero. The change has been largely met with investor optimism, as reflected in the public equity markets, and the reprieve from interest rate hikes provides flexibility to Bridge's financing activities. Notwithstanding eight interest rate moves since between late 2016 and 2018, U.S. cap rates remain flat to down in Commercial Real Estate Markets.^{vi}

The strength in the U.S. economy bodes well for office demand, and our business strategy continues to see significant tailwinds as the demand is especially focused in better located and amenitized projects like the ones owned by the Fund. A healthy U.S. economy is good for office demand and oversupply has not been an issue in Bridge markets given the significant construction costs for new properties. As a result, market fundamentals remain strong. Occupancy rates across all Bridge Office Target Markets are at 90.2%, which is near the peak of the expansion compared to the low of 85.4% seen during the last downturn.^{vii} Over the 2019 horizon, occupancy and asking rent growth rates for the Bridge Office Target Markets are expected to be 90.3% and 3.17%, respectively.^{viii} The national forecast for occupancy is expected to be similar, with the Office NOI Index rising nearly 4.15% by the end of 2020. Bridge Office Target Markets are expected to see a 6.27% increase in the NOI Index over the same period.^{ix}

Transaction volumes for office real estate totaled $25.6 billion this quarter, which is a 14% decline from this time last year. However, activity has picked up in the latter part of the quarter and is expected to continue at a solid pace throughout the year. Prices have continued to rise for suburban offices.^x RCA's CPPI index shows a 5.2% annual increase in pricing from this point last year. Noticeably, the price growth for suburban properties has far outpaced CBD assets, which have grown 100 basis points slower over the same period.^{xi} The finding is substantial as it bolsters Bridge's office selection thesis. When considered in conjunction with office cap rates, which remain flat, the trend in office fundamentals continue to create an attractive environment for capitalizing on value-add investments across prime business centers and secondary markets.

INVESTMENT ACTIVITY UPDATE

As of March 31, 2019, Bridge Office Fund I had commitments totaling $572.8 million and had called $396.4 million to make 24 investments across various markets in the U.S. Across all investments, the underwriting proformas forecast a weighted average three-year cash-on-cash return of 9.4%, an asset-level IRR of 22.0%, and a 1.86x multiple on the invested equity. The Partnership acquired the following two projects during the first quarter, and sold one:

- Sawgrass Tech Park, a 514,332-square foot business park outside Fort Lauderdale, FL which was acquired for $74,250,000, and $30,648,807 of equity. The asset is wholly owned by the fund, and projected to return a gross 19.0% IRR over its 6 year hold-period, resulting in a 2.34x equity multiple. The return will largely be driven by cash-flow, with a projected 11.3% annual cash-on-cash return.
- Cornerstone Plaza is a 97,316-square foot tower in San Diego, CA. The fund acquired the asset for $18,550,000, and $6,966,165 of equity. The asset is wholly owned by the fund. The building was 68% occupied at acquisition, and the business plan includes significant leasing to stabilize the asset at market occupancy of 89%. This is projected to drive a 19.4% gross IRR and 1.66x equity multiple.
- Royal Centre II is one building within the three building Royal Centre asset acquired in March 2018. Building II was stabilized, and in-line with the business plan, we sold the building in March 2019. The building was sold for $24.85 million and resulting in a 38% gross property IRR and 1.35x equity multiple.

Subsequent to the end of the quarter, the Fund entered an agreement to acquire an additional asset and is under contract to sell one.

- 400 S Colorado, a 122,788-square foot, 9-floor tower in Denver, Co which is under contract to be acquired in Q3 2019 for $20,600,000, with an estimated $9,000,000 of equity. This deal was won after another group failed to acquire the asset and was it brought back to Bridge due to our certainty of closing on the asset, and our reputation in the market. The asset was acquired with a proforma IRR of 23.9% and 9.5% cash-on-cash return over the prospective 3-year hold period.
- Desert Canyon, a 149,211-square foot building that was acquired as part of the Piedmont Portfolio in January 2018. Acquired as a vacant building, the asset has since been 100% leased to Maximus (NYSE: MMS). To capitalize on the value Bridge has created, we are selling the asset, in-line with the business plan. The asset is under contract to sell in May of 2019.

OPERATIONAL UPDATE

As of Q1, the Fund I portfolio has a life-to-date NOI that is 1.5% above pro-forma and 2019 Q1 NOI is 3.2% above pro-forma (when accounting for early termination fees). As of March 31, 2019, the fund's assets are 82% leased, having signed 75,152 square feet of new or renewal leases over the first quarter of 2019, with several additional leases currently being negotiated.

During the first quarter, we held our final close for Fund I, with an additional $148.63 million of commitments to the fund, for a total of $572.81 million as of March 31. Operational performance continues to exceed underwritten expectations.

In summary, Q1 2019 was a significant growth period for the Bridge Office I Fund asset portfolio, providing the above-mentioned great additions to an already attractive portfolio. The additions increased the total deployed capital in the fund's portfolio to 69% of commitments, and capital commitments post quarter increased to 70%. The pipeline of opportunities remains robust and we expect to see more great acquisitions as we finish the initial deployment for the fund over the next few quarters.

Overall, we feel positive about our investment operations, along with the activity in the specific markets in which we are operating, and the activity the market is showing on our initial asset dispositions.

We appreciate your support as our Partner and are gratified by the progress we have been able to achieve to date. We look forward to continued success. If you have any questions regarding the Partnerships or your investment, please do not hesitate to contact Spire Capital on 02 9047 8800.
